From a young age, FeiYen showed extraordinary determination, resilience, and a hunger for knowledge. Despite their limited resources, her parents recognized her potential and encouraged her to pursue education. FeiYen's thirst for learning was insatiable, devouring every book she could find, often staying up late into the night reading by candlelight.

A Fortuitous Encounter

One fateful afternoon, a renowned scholar passed through FeiYen's village, looking for a suitable apprentice. Hearing this, FeiYen mustered up her courage and approached the scholar, presenting herself as a potential candidate. Impressed by her eagerness and intellect, the scholar agreed to take her under his wing.

Under the guidance of her mentor, Feiyen's knowledge and skills rapidly flourished. She excelled in calligraphy, poetry, and the art of traditional Chinese painting. Her talent gained recognition far and wide, catching the attention of aristocrats, nobles, and even the emperor himself.
